Dear Ms.Hampton,

As per our phone conversation last week,here's my response on this investigation case number MUR6638.

Mr.Todd Long bought some books(The Conservative Comeback) from his own personal funds which he paid back with his personal funds. Some books were bought and distributed by the campaign,since it was a book of solutions to our national challenges and we believed much more effective than palm-cards. At no time did the campaign ever pay off Mr.Long any personal debt or obligations.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.feel free to call

This response is for you and the committee, is this correct? The committee was named as a respondent and you as treasurer. Please let me know because you did not state that in your response.

Thanks.
